

END USER LICENCE AGREEMENT

Version 1.0 - 17 October 2026

1. The parties and software

This agreement is between you and DYMAI SOUND (the "Licensor"). It covers the GLUECOMP-3B Free Edition audio plugin, supplied factory presets, and accompanying documentation (the "Software"). Support: dymaimusic@gmail.com. Product information: <https://plugins.dymai.org/gluecomp3b>.

Please read this agreement before installing. If you accept it on behalf of an organisation, you must have authority to do so. If you do not agree, do not install or use the Software. Any mandatory rights you have under applicable law remain unaffected.

2. Free licence

The Licensor grants you a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free licence to install and use this version on computers you own or control, for personal, educational, and commercial audio work. You may make reasonable backup copies. There is no activation requirement, device-count limit, subscription, or trial expiry for this Free Edition. This licence continues unless terminated under section 10.

3. Your audio and presets

You retain ownership of your recordings, compositions, performances, projects, and original user presets. You may commercially release audio processed using the Software and the supplied factory presets without paying the Licensor additional royalties or crediting the plugin. This agreement does not give you rights to audio or other material owned by someone else.

4. Sharing and redistribution

You may share the complete, unmodified official installer free of charge, with its documentation, this agreement, and third-party notices intact. You may not charge separately for the Software, remove copyright or attribution notices, present a modified binary as an official release, or imply endorsement by DYMAI SOUND. Obtain written permission for other redistribution or commercial bundling, except where applicable law or a third-party licence grants the relevant right.

5. Ownership and third-party components

The Software is licensed, not sold. The Licensor and the relevant third parties retain their respective intellectual property rights. Free pricing does not grant access to proprietary source code or ownership of the DYMAI SOUND name and marks. Third-party components and fonts are subject to their own terms in Third-Party Notices. Those terms take precedence for the components they cover, and this agreement does not restrict rights those terms or applicable law independently grant.

6. Permitted use and restrictions

Use the Software lawfully and within the rights granted above. Do not remove ownership notices, distribute misleading or malicious modifications under the Licensor's identity, or use the Software in a way that infringes others' rights. Restrictions in this agreement do not prevent interoperability work, reverse engineering, security research, accessibility work, or other activities to the extent applicable law permits them despite contractual restrictions.

7. Updates and support

Updates and support may be offered at the Licensor's discretion. This Free Edition does not include a guaranteed support response time, guaranteed compatibility with every host or future operating system, or a promise of future features. New terms for a future version apply to that version when accepted; they do not retroactively change the licence granted for a version already supplied.

8. Warranty

To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Software is supplied "as is" and "as available", without additional contractual warranties of uninterrupted or error-free operation, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or non-infringement. Test the plugin with your host and keep backups of important work. This section does not exclude statutory guarantees, conformity remedies, or other rights that cannot lawfully be excluded.

9. Liability

To the extent applicable law permits, the Licensor is not liable for indirect or consequential loss, lost profits, business interruption, or loss of data arising from use of the Software. Nothing in this agreement excludes or limits liability for fraud, deliberate misconduct, death or personal injury caused by negligence where liability cannot be excluded, or any other liability or consumer remedy that applicable law does not permit the Licensor to exclude or limit. Where a limitation is not permitted, the liability required by law remains in place.

10. Termination

You may end this agreement by stopping use and deleting copies you no longer wish to keep. The Licensor may terminate your licence for a material breach that remains uncorrected after reasonable notice and an opportunity to remedy it where remedy is possible. On termination, stop using and distributing the Software. Ownership provisions, accrued rights, applicable liability provisions, and third-party licence rights survive as appropriate. Termination does not transfer ownership of your audio or projects to the Licensor.

11. Applicable law and mandatory rights

Applicable law determines the law and courts with jurisdiction over this agreement. No provision requires you to give up mandatory consumer protections or a forum available to you by law. If a provision is unenforceable, it is applied only to the extent lawful, and the rest of the agreement remains effective where possible. Failure to enforce a provision immediately is not a waiver of it.

12. Contact and agreement scope

Contact DYMAI SOUND at dymaimusic@gmail.com. Product information is available at <https://plugins.dymai.org/gluecomp3b>. This agreement and the supplied Terms of Use and Distribution describe the licence for this version. If they conflict, this agreement controls the Software licence, subject always to mandatory law and the relevant third-party terms.

TERMS OF USE AND DISTRIBUTION

Version 1.0 - 17 October 2026

1. Scope

These terms cover the official GLUECOMP-3B Free Edition distribution package, its documentation, factory presets, and voluntary product support provided by DYMAI SOUND. The End User Licence Agreement governs installation, copying, and use of the plugin. These terms do not replace a website operator's separate privacy or website-use notice.

2. Price and availability

This version is supplied without a purchase price, subscription, activation account, or licence-file requirement. Optional donations, if offered separately, are voluntary and do not change the rights granted for this Free Edition. No donation or payment service is included in the plugin itself.

3. Official packages and requirements

Obtain the official package from the product's published distribution channel. Check the release notes for supported formats, system requirements, and known limitations. Audio Unit and VST3 versions are included in the Mac installer; a compatible host application is required. This package does not include AAX or a standalone audio application.

4. Factory presets and user work

Factory presets are starting points, not promises of a particular artistic or technical result. Adjust them to your source material and compare at matched loudness. Your user presets and audio remain yours. Updating or uninstalling the plugin need not delete your own preset folder; back it up before making changes to your system.

5. Redistribution and branding

You may share the complete, unmodified official installer at no charge, with the EULA, documentation, and third-party notices included. Other distribution and commercial bundling require permission unless applicable law or a component licence permits them. Do not imply that an unofficial or altered download is produced, supported, or endorsed by DYMAI SOUND.

6. Support and feedback

Support is voluntary unless a separate written agreement or applicable law requires otherwise. Provide the plugin version, operating system, host name and version, format, and reproducible steps when reporting an issue. Only send recordings or project files you are entitled to share. You keep ownership of feedback and audio you supply; you permit reasonable use of a support report to investigate and respond to that report. No broad licence to publish your recordings is granted by contacting support.

7. Future releases

The Licensor may update, replace, or stop offering downloads of a version. This does not create a remote revocation mechanism or retroactively remove rights already granted for a copy lawfully supplied. Future versions may have separate requirements or terms disclosed with those versions.

8. Rights and liability

The EULA's warranty, liability, and mandatory-rights provisions also apply to these terms. Nothing here excludes a statutory consumer right or a third-party licence right. No guarantee is made that a particular artistic result, host configuration, or future operating system will be supported.

OFFLINE PLUGIN PRIVACY NOTICE

17 October 2026

The plugin

GLUECOMP-3B processes audio locally in your audio host. The Free Edition does not require an account or licence activation and does not include analytics, advertising, an online updater, or telemetry transmission. It does not send your audio, projects, or presets to DYMAI SOUND.

Local files

The host may store plugin settings in its project files. Presets you save are written to a folder on your computer. The Mac installer places the manual, factory presets, and notices in /Library/Application Support/DYMAI SOUND/GLUECOMP-3B. When you use LOAD or SAVE, missing factory presets may be copied into your own preset folder; existing user presets are preserved. You control these local files and may back them up or delete them.

The operating system and host

Your host, operating system, download service, and document viewer have their own behaviour and privacy terms. macOS may check code-signing or notarization information with Apple. Opening an external product link uses your chosen browser or viewer. These activities are separate from the plugin's local audio processing.

Support and the website

This notice describes the offline plugin. If you voluntarily contact DYMAI SOUND, the information you supply is used to handle that request. Website hosting, email, and any optional payment service may have separate notices; this document does not describe their cookies, logs, or retention policies. Do not send personal or confidential material unless it is needed for your request and you are entitled to share it.
